As Germany's Christian Schmidt gets ready to replace Valentin Inzko as head of the Office of the High Representative, OHR, in August, the leader of the Bosnian Serbs, who mostly want the OHR closed, has set terms for recognising him.

Christian Schmidt of Germany will take over from Valentin Inzko as head of the international community's Office of High Representative, OHR, to Bosnia from August 1, the Steering Board of the Peace Implementation Council, PIC, which groups countries overseeing the peace in Bosnia, confirmed on Thursday.

The OHR should now formally notify the Secretary-General of the United Nations of the appointment.
