Nine months after invading Ukraine, Vladimir Putin is beginning to fracture the West.

Top European officials are furious with Joe Bidens administration and now accuse the Americans of making a fortune from the war, while EU countries suffer.

The fact is, if you look at it soberly, the country that is most profiting from this war is the U.S. because they are selling more gas and at higher prices, and because they are selling more weapons, one senior official told POLITICO.
