The GERB-SDS parliamentary group held a meeting with "Vazrazhdane" (Revival), where they discussed sectoral policies. It is also the last party with which the largest parliamentary group held talks on program and policies.

Desislava Atanasova from GERB-SDS stated that they know the topics on which they have common points - the reform of the justice system. "We have almost no differences that such a reform should exist, the question is to clarify the measures. There are differences under the State Budget Law. We can count on them to seek support on a number of topics, just as they can on us, we have demonstrated this in the previous parliament - with floating majorities. [...]
