The Iraqi Prime Minister, Mohammed Shia Al-Sudani, emphasized the importance of maintaining communication with the United States to end the mission of the international coalition in Iraq.

Al-Sudani's remarks took place on Monday during a phone call with the US Secretary of State, Antony Blinken, when they reviewed the latest regional developments and initiatives to promote regional and international stability, according to a statement released by the Prime Ministers Office (PMO).

The Iraqi Prime Minister called on major countries and international organizations to assume their full role to stop the crimes committed by Israel against the Palestinian people.
