Prime Minister Nikol Pashinian praised Armenias special relationship with the Vatican as he was received by Pope Francis on Monday.

The press office of the Holy See did not release a readout of the meeting in the following hours. The official Vatican News portal likewise gave no details of the pontiffs conversation with Pashinian.

It said the audience lasted for about 30 minutes and was followed by an exchange of gifts. Its Armenian-language service also noted that Pashinians trip to the Vatican lasted for only a few hours.
