Trend News Agency (25 December 2024)

Russia is Tajikistan's main strategic partner, President of Tajikistan Emomali Rahmon said at a meeting with President Vladimir Putin in St. Petersburg, Trend reports.

The ending year was notably fruitful for our relations: as per the annual statistics, Russia has emerged as Tajikistan's primary trade and economic partner, with trade turnover increasing by about 20 percent, while cultural and humanitarian connections are actively progressing. Today, I am prepared to engage in a discussion regarding these and other matters pertaining to our relations, as well as international and regional security issues, Rahmon said.

The Russian president underscored throughout the discussions that bilateral relations are progressing favorably.
