Türkiye Today (27 Şubat 2025)

The Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) Defense Ministers Meeting (ADMM) has accepted Türkiye and Germany as observers for the 2024-2027 period, marking a step forward in international defense cooperation.

Malaysias Defense Minister Mohamed Khaled Nordin confirmed the decision on Wednesday, stating that all ASEAN member states agreed on the inclusion of Türkiye and Germany in the ADMM-Plus Expert Working Group Observer Program.

Today, we are grateful to all and thankful that under this ASEAN chairmanship, it appears that everyone agrees, meaning there is consensus to accept Germany and Türkiye as observers in the ADMM observer program, Nordin said after chairing the retreat, according to Malaysias state news agency Bernama.
