Azerbaijan has firmly rejected Armenia's baseless accusations regarding the mine threat and reiterated the importance of international assistance in demining territories affected by the occupation, Trend reports.

The response was delivered by the Permanent Mission of Azerbaijan to the UN Office in Geneva and other international organizations during the 58th session of the UN Human Rights Council.

Azerbaijan's statement highlighted that the country remains one of the most mine-contaminated nations in the world. During the Armenian occupation, over 1.5 million mines and other explosive devices were planted across Azerbaijani territories, with more than 13% of the land still heavily mined.
