Deputy Minister Mammadov participated in a panel titled Connecting Europe and Asia: Pathways to Partnership and Prosperity, where he highlighted the importance of closer political and economic ties between Europe and Asia to promote global stability and sustainable development. He underlined Azerbaijan's role as a dependable partner and a key transport and logistics corridor connecting the two continents.

He also noted Azerbaijan's active involvement in regional integration through major multilateral initiatives in transport, energy, and communications, emphasising the country's coordinating role across the Eurasian region.
