Iranian President Masoud Pezeshkian is expected to make an official visit to Armenia within the next two weeks, Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi said.

He confirmed the news in an interview with Tehran TV, Caliber.Az reports, citing Armenian media.

Highlighting the importance of strengthening ties with neighbouring countries, Araghchi noted: The development of Iran's relations with its neighbours has been very important over the past year... Mr. Pezeshkian visited Iraq, Azerbaijan, will visit Armenia in a week or two, visited Turkmenistan, Tajikistan... Pakistan, Oman, Qatar.
