President Kassym-Jomart Tokayev of Kazakhstan highlighted strengthening cooperation in transit and transport as another priority of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization (SCO), Akorda reports.

In his speech, Kassym-Jomart Tokayev highlighted the vast potential of Chinas Belt and Road Initiative, which has received backing from more than 150 countries.

This global project could generate up to 1.5 trillion US dollars annually for all participants in trade and logistics along the Belt and Road routes. The North East and Trans-Caspian International Transport corridors also offer significant opportunities, said the Kazakh leader.
