TRNCs foreign policy will follow long-standing traditions during his term, Tufan Erhurman tells Anadolu

Tufan Erhurman, the Republican Turkish Party (CTP) leader who won the presidential election in the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC) according to unofficial results, told Anadolu on Sunday that no foreign policy decisions regarding Cyprus will be made without consultation with Türkiye during his term.

No president has ever conducted negotiations, held meetings, or set a foreign policy line without consulting Türkiye. This is a long-standing state tradition, and it will continue, Erhurman said.
