Kyrgyzstan's Bishkek city will host the second "B5+1" Forum on February 4 2026, Trend reports via the press service of the Cabinet of Ministers.

The forum is organized in cooperation with the government of Kyrgyzstan and serves as a platform for dialogue between business leaders and governments of Central Asian countries and the U.S., aiming to strengthen regional economic cooperation and enhance public-private sector interaction.

According to the Cabinet, the forum will focus on key sectors including agriculture, banking and finance, critical mineral resources, e-commerce and information technology, transport and logistics, and tourism.
