Among the promising areas of cooperation, the minister highlighted renewable energy, green technologies, and sustainable development, as well as humanitarian cooperation in the fields of education, culture, and tourism.

Deepening the comprehensive strategic partnership with China is one of the key priorities of Azerbaijan's foreign policy, Azerbaijani Foreign Minister Jeyhun Bayramov said in an exclusive interview with Global Times.

According to the foreign minister, Azerbaijan relations are long-term, multidimensional, and mutually beneficial. They are built on a high level of political trust, close dialogue between the leaders of the two countries, and active engagement at both bilateral and multilateral levels.
