MassisPost (12 February 2026)

Russia and Armenia will begin negotiations on restoring two railway sections in Armenia that would connect to Azerbaijan and Turkey.

The announcement was made by Russian Deputy Prime Minister Alexey Overchuk.

At the request of the Armenian side and guided by fraternal and friendly sentiments toward the people of Armenia, the Russian Federation has decided to begin substantive negotiations on the restoration of two sections of Armenias railways. These will ensure their connection with the railways of the Republic of Azerbaijan in the Yeraskh area and with the railways of the Republic of Turkey in the Akhurian area, Overchuk stated.
