Azerbaijan has called for stronger economic integration with Georgia and Türkiye, emphasizing regional connectivity, trade expansion, and investment cooperation as key pillars of long-term growth.

Speaking at the Georgia-Azerbaijan-Türkiye Business Forum, Economy Minister Mikayil Jabbarov said the three countries reviewed opportunities to deepen economic ties and improve the efficiency of their strategic partnership, News.Az reports, citing AZERTAC.

According to Jabbarov, discussions focused on strengthening regional connectivity and advancing several strategic priorities. These include the more efficient use of energy resources, unlocking the full potential of the Middle Corridor, upgrading digital transit infrastructure, and expanding export capabilities.
