Iraqi Government spokesperson Haider Al-Aboudi said on Monday that coordination among the state authorities had produced key anti-corruption indicators not seen since 2003, while noting that the withdrawal of the international coalition and the handover of its positions to Iraqi forces were proceeding regularly.

The Iraqi government, in the 107 days since it won the confidence of the Iraqi parliament on May 14, 2026, has been working according to sovereign priorities, Al-Aboudi told the Iraqi News Agency (INA).
