Ursula von der Leyen pledges □□ million for a Black Sea security hub in Romania and Bulgaria as EU leaders warn of mounting attacks on ships.

European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen has announced additional funding for Romania and the maritime security hub planned for Constanța and Varna, further emphasising the importance of Black Sea security for Europes eastern flank.

Speaking about Europes support for Romania, von der Leyen said the European Union stands in "full solidarity" with the country and that it can "count on a firm and united European response."
