The Philippines will host the 49th ASEAN Summit and Related Summits in Manila from Nov. 15-17, bringing together regional leaders and major global powers, including the US and China, to discuss security, economic cooperation and shared challenges.

According to the Philippine Department of Foreign Affairs, President Ferdinand Marcos Jr. will chair the summit, with discussions covering regional resilience, emerging global challenges and the crisis in Myanmar.

Chinese Premier Li Qiang is expected to attend ASEAN-China engagements, while US President Donald Trump will participate in the ASEAN-US Special Summit on Nov. 17.
