The US and China held an "in-depth" dialogue Thursday in Beijing as Chinese President Xi Jinping is set to host his American counterpart, Donald Trump, next week, state media reported.

The two sides exchanged "candid, in-depth and constructive" views at the US-China Political Dialogue 2026 in Beijing under the theme, "U.S.-China Relations in the New Era: Exploring the Right Approach in a Changing Asia-Pacific and the World," state-run Xinhua News reported.

Liu Haixing, head of the International Department of the Communist Party of China Central Committee, said a "stable, sound and sustainable" China-US relationship not only serves the interests of the two peoples, but also provides an important guarantee for peace and prosperity in the Asia-Pacific region and the world.
