US President Donald Trump arrived in the Philippines on Tuesday □□□ the tail end of a Southeast Asian summit, with protests awaiting him as he prepares for the first meeting in two years of the Quad group of Indo-Pacific countries.

Trump's Asia trip, which includes the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) forum in Shenzhen and a much-anticipated trilateral meeting, opens new tab with his Chinese and Russian counterparts, comes after his Republican Party's defeat in midterm elections, plus spy allegations, opens new tab and new US curbs on China's access to AI chips that could complicate a fragile trade-war truce.

Demonstrators gathered in Manila for a fifth day of protests that have included the burning of Trump effigies, calls for an end to □□□ Middle East war and scrapping of the US-led Pax Silica supply chain initiative.
