The US-led Quadrilateral Security Dialogue (Quad) at its first leader-level meeting in more than two years on Tuesday raised concern over "arbitrary" export restrictions and opposed unilateral actions.

The group did not name any country, but the statement came as US President Donald Trump is set to embark on a visit to China on Wednesday.

Trump, Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese, Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi, and Japanese Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi -- the four Quad leaders -- met in the Philippines' capital, Manila, amid tensions in the disputed South China Sea, as well as the global race to secure supply chains of critical minerals.
